where it recently opened its first office in Sacramento, according to Stephen Stein, Managing Partner at Tauro Capital Advisors.

"We have been rapidly expanding year-over-year and expect to triple in size by the end of 2022," explains Stein. "This continued growth is demonstrative of our unique approach and collaborative culture. Because of this, we are able to better serve clients and customize financing solutions that fit their business goals."

Tauro Capital Advisors is headquartered in Los Angeles with offices in San Diego, Sacramento and now Costa Mesa, California.

"Our new location in Orange County will allow us to continue to serve clients, as

"Our teams understand how to deliver creative capital solutions and have continued to source competitive financing for our clients throughout the pandemic, a key reason for our continued growth."

Tauro Capital Advisors sources financing across all product types including multifamily, office, industrial, hospitality and retail. The firm has significant experience in financing triple-net-lease deals and ghost kitchens.

"As food delivery continues to expand, restaurants are seeking separate space where they can simply fill the growing number of delivery orders," explains Stein.

Anthony Johnston

"Our team of experts understands the unique needs of this niche space and has financed more than $30 million in ghost kitchens over the last 5 months."

Tauro's Orange County office will be led by Senior Directors Matt Bucaro and Anthony
